

13th Annual Inner City 100

What is the Inner City 100?

The Inner City 100 recognizes the 100 fastest growing companies in America's inner cities. Created by the Initiative for a Competitive Inner City (ICIC) thirteen years ago, the program spotlights and supports growing companies in urban areas, highlighting the importance of creating healthy inner city economies in order to develop strong urban communities.

The Initiative for a Competitive Inner City is a national not-for-profit organization founded in 1994 by Harvard Business School Professor Michael Porter to promote business-led economic development in America's inner cities through private sector engagement that leads to job, income and wealth creation for local residents. ICIC brings together business and civic leaders to drive innovation and action, transform thinking, and accelerate inner city business growth.

Each year, ICIC seeks nominations and selects the fastest growing companies from among the applicants. Winners are determined based on revenue growth over a five year period (2005-2009 for the 2011 list). For the 2010 list, the average growth rate of the 100 winners was 199% over the five year period.

2011 Application Form

Eligibility for the 2011 Inner City 100

To apply for the list, companies must complete a brief, one-page application form. Companies that qualify based on that application are then invited to complete a survey and provide financial documentation to verify self-reported sales figures.

To qualify for the 2011 Inner City 100, a company must:

- ▶ Be an independent, for-profit corporation, partnership, or proprietorship.
- ▶ Be headquartered in or have 51% or more of its physical operations in economically distressed urban areas.*
- ▶ Have ten or more full-time employees in 2009.
- ▶ Have a five-year operating sales history (2005-2009) that includes:
  - an increase in 2009 sales over 2008 sales
  - sales of at least $200,000 in 2005 and at least $1 million in 2009.

*Inner Cities are defined as urban areas within central cities with a population of at least 100,000 people that have higher poverty and unemployment rates and lower median household income levels than the surrounding Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA).

How do companies benefit?

The Inner City 100 list receives substantial national and local media attention and is featured in Bloomberg BusinessWeek magazine. Past winners have cited meeting major investors, winning multi-million dollar contracts and gaining increased credibility as direct results of appearing on the list. Inner City 100 companies are also invited to the Inner City 100 CEO Forum at Harvard Business School.
